THE HUMAN LEAGUE

Dear Maria,

Thank you! This World Farm Animals Day, your generous gift of $13.47 is helping to end the abuse of animals raised for food. Even better, your gift will be doubled by a dedicated donor—so it'll go twice as far.

Thanks to the thoughtful generosity of donors like you, together we've profoundly changed the lives of hundreds of millions of sentient animals. So far, more than 500 companies have committed to our welfare standards for chickens raised for meat. In 2022 alone, the world's five largest foodservice providers promised to do better for animals, while the top two global pharmacies went fully cage-free. Today, more than 38% of laying hens in the US live outside of cages, compared to just 2% in 2005.

This is tremendous progress, and it's all thanks to the tireless efforts of supporters like you.

But our food system is still seriously broken. Right now, 62% of egg-laying hens in the US are forced to spend their lives in tiny battery cages so small they can scarcely turn around. That's why, in 2023, we're doubling down on our cage-free campaigns, holding companies accountable for eliminating these horrendous devices. And that's why we've set an ambitious goal of sparing 6.7 million hens from life in a cage before the year is up.

Your gift is helping to bring us there—to a world without battery cages, where chickens are free to roam, scratch, and flex their wings. With your care and compassion, we're getting closer to ending the abuse of animals raised for food. You can read how we're doing in our quarterly progress reports.

Thank you again for your partnership. We can't wait to see what we accomplish together!

On behalf of all of us at The Humane League, and farm animals everywhere, thank you.
